John Pujajangku-Piyirn School, Mulan

Primary and Secondary

John Pujajangka-Piyirn School, located in the Mulan First Nations Community in the South-East Kimberley, empowers students to become independent, walking with dignity and joy in their First Nations culture.

Committed to Two Way Learning, the school respects and fosters the traditional First Nations languages and culture of the area whilst also enabling children to learn Standard Australian English and culture. Offering a holistic education, it focuses on spiritual, intellectual, and emotional development, with an emphasis on literacy and numeracy.

John Pujajangka-Piyirn School proudly participates in the "I Can Run Program" with the Indigenous Marathon Foundation and has been recognised for their award-winning 'Ngurra Yungu' project, which empowers students to grow and cook food for community elders.

Lake Gregory, Mulan

Teaching in Mulan, Western Australia, offers a unique and fulfilling lifestyle. Nestled on the edge of the Great Sandy Desert, this remote community provides a deep connection to First Nations culture and stunning desert landscapes. Educators can immerse themselves in the rich traditions of the Walmajarri people, enjoy a close-knit community, and experience the beauty of the outback. Additionally, there is access to local swimming holes, enhancing the outdoor experience. This opportunity allows for a meaningful impact on students' lives while enjoying the cultural richness of one of Australia's most isolated regions.
